

Code of Ethics

As a coach:

- I will conduct myself in a professional manner at all times
- I will clearly define our roles, length of service and fees before signing an agreement with a client.
- I will work to clarify expectations to work toward client satisfaction
- I will demonstrate unconditional acceptance and love toward clients regardless of their standards, beliefs, attitudes and actions.
- I will use my skills, experience and abilities to provide my clients with my professional best
- I will be honest , open and truthful when asked by my client; perhaps requiring a less than comfortable message but with my clients' best interests at heart at all times
- I will continue to grow professionally, personally and spiritually to provide the best services possible
- I will stay abreast of the best information, practices and tools to provide the resources to help along the way
- I will maintain a manageable client load so that I give my best to each client
- I will refer my client to another professional if I am personally unable to assist the client
- I will rejoice and be glad as we accomplish our work
- I will thank God for being chosen by my clients; I count it a privilege
